

Mission Engagement Bloke!

Nehemiah has me reflecting on life in the Uniting Churches throughout our Presbytery. We're into chapter four. (May I suggest you enjoy one, two -scan three, and read carefully with me in chapter four?)

At a time when we have church buildings in need of entire new roofs, foundational repairs, stained glass restoration and new plumbing; millions of dollars of property repairs.... Nehemiah speaks of something much bigger than rebuilding Jerusalem's walls.

The mission of Nehemiah, who risked his life three times a day tasting King Artaxerxes' wine for poison, is nothing less than to regather the people of God into His purpose, in the place of His presence.

When he hears about the enormous building project required, within that much bigger picture, he prays to the 'God of Heaven'. Then, he asks the right questions of the right people, organises a fund raiser.... And prays and fasts some more.

I had tongue in cheek when I said skip through chapter three. What you'll find there is the diverse people of God committed to the big vision; priests, plumbers, gold smiths, garbage collectors, every man and his dog; responsible for their part of the wall with whatever resources they have.

And this is where we find a template for our current circumstances within the community of God's people:

When times are (obviously) tough there is no shortage of Sanballat and Tobiah voices, saying, "Your efforts are feeble. Will you get this done in a day? You're surrounded by rubble and do you think you'll ever worship here again?"

– The previously carved out space for our worship and witness is no longer automatically ours, nor necessarily welcome in the wider community.

In response, Nehemiah prays. He doesn't argue or debate. He prays to God.

As a result of all those people in chapter three, "who worked with all their heart" the whole wall reached half its height. – The whole wall is rising together. We are a connexional church – how are we supporting the different congregations and faith communities with whom we belong in the community of the Presbytery?

From initial ridicule, the outside voices become threatening in 4:8. Then, "the strength of the labourers is giving out. Our enemies aim to put an end to the work and kill us. Wherever you turn we will be under attack."

It's always easy to blame our circumstances, or someone else.

In response, Nehemiah prays. "But we prayed to our God and posted a guard day and night."

Chapter four brings us to the question of why: Why are we committed to restoring and renewing the physical and metaphorical 'places' where we encounter God in worship and bear witness to God's presence?

The answer is not about our needing to feel comfortable, or at home with what we had back in the good old days. In fact, Nehemiah "stationed some of the people behind the lowest points of the wall, at the exposed places in family groups." – are we called, together, to genuine risk? Restoration and renewal of our movement is worth the struggle for the "sake of your brothers, your sons, your, your daughters your wives and your homes."

That mission isn't someone else's. It's for all of us; "nobles, officials, priests and the rest of the people."

Nehemiah prayed – "Remember the Lord, who is great and awesome."

If prayer has been the central thread of this passionate communal challenge, chapter four concludes with a sharp reminder of our need to stick together. Nehemiah keeps the bugler close by, saying, "This hard work is extensive and spread out, and we are widely separated from one another along the wall. Whenever you hear the sound of the trumpet, join us here."

Our God will fight for us.

Retirement Rev Schalk Pienaar

A Time of Gratitude and Fellowship

After faithfully serving our congregation for a journey together of 14 years, Reverend Dr Schalk Pienaar and his wife, Marlene, are embarking on a new chapter in life as he enters retirement. To honour his faithfulness and leadership as shepherd of the flock at Kawana Waters Uniting Church, we came together on 28 April for a heartfelt send-off filled with love, warmth, and genuine affection.

Schalk began the morning with a service, urging us all to “Guard the Gospel” (Galatians 1:3-9), filled with his usual passionate messages. At the conclusion of our “regular” Sunday morning service, our Presbytery Chairman, Rev Russell Morris and Council Chairman, Lloyd Walker, presided over the formalities and prayers for Schalk and Marlene.

Following the service, members of our congregation showed their generosity and love by organising a delicious morning tea. The fellowship shared during this time was truly special, as stories were shared, and memories were cherished. Two honorary quilts were presented, and the children provided some light relief in presenting Schalk with a token of our farewell gift. We hope he and Marlene will be able to return to Kawana one Sunday to receive the “real-deal” bird feeder, currently under construction.

We continued the celebrations with a delightful picnic lunch, enjoying the great outdoors and each other's company. The laughter, camaraderie, and shared moments truly highlighted the sense of family that Schalk and Marlene have so actively fostered within our church.

It was a day filled with gratitude, love, and sincere appreciation for all that Schalk and Marlene have done for our congregation over the years. As we bid them farewell, we do so with hearts full of thanks and blessings for the journey ahead.

May the road ahead be filled with joy and peace for Schalk and Marlene and may Schalk’s retirement be as fulfilling as his years of service to our God.

Glasshouse Country

A happy group on a happy occasion. (Guess who's coming to Dinner?) As a fund raiser for the Glasshouse Country Uniting Church, an event titled, "Guess who is coming for dinner" is undertaken on a quarterly basis in the homes of church members. Participants and hosts choose either midday or evening on a Friday or Saturday and record their names in a book. Neither hosts nor participants know their fellow diners until the day of the event when they open secret invitation envelopes. It is co-ordinated by Glenda and Neil Halpin who keep us guessing each time!

Irrespective of the financial benefits for the Church, the flow-on effect for the local community, or the quality of the food provided by the hosts - time with like-minded people and the pleasure and friendships strengthened or formed from these events is immeasurable.

If reading this article piques your interest, please contact the Church (0437550984) for details as there is an open invitation for the community to participate.

Honouring Tradition, Youth, Faith, and Future Generations at Alex Park

In 1933, when the Church first rented the Alexandra Hostel property for their Easter Camp Conference, little could they have imagined the journey ahead.

Fast forward to 1946, when, as the new owners, the church officially opened its doors as the new Alexandra Park Youth Department campsite, and the stage was set for a legacy of tradition, youth engagement, faith, and the nurturing of future generations.

The site, initially touched by the Church's presence during World War II, has since blossomed into a haven for stillness, adventure, and spiritual connection, bridging decades of memories and moments that resonate with Queenslanders and visitors alike.

As the 20th century rolled on, the pace of life sped up dramatically.

Commissioning Service Ps Jo Rogers - Uniting Life

We had a truly splendid day on May 12th as we celebrated the commissioning of Pastor Jo Rogers. The atmosphere was filled with warmth and excitement as we gathered to witness this significant moment in our church's journey.

The service was beautifully led by Rev. Russell Morris and contributed to by Uniting Life Church Council members Malcolm Durham and Joshua Edwards; many thanks also to Rev. Nigel Rogers and Presbytery Admin Kylie Aalbers for their myriad of contributions.

Pastor Jo's commissioning marks the beginning of a new chapter for us, and we are eager to see the impact of her leadership on our community. As we move forward, let us continue to pray for Pastor Jo and Uniting Life.

May we be guided by God's wisdom and grace as we reach out to the Mooloolaba community with love and compassion. Together, let's support one another in this mission, trusting that God will lead us every step of the way.

BELLS Faith Community supports DV Safe Phones

For the months of April and May, BELLS Faith Community supported by the Bellvista Community Association (advertising/communication) and Aura Property Caloundra West (collection point), have been collecting phones for DV Safe Phones.

On Sunday evening 26th May, during our Sunday Service we heard from Mr Ashton Wood CEO of DV Safe Phones about the organisation and the amazing work they are doing providing refurbished mobile phones to be distributed to those escaping domestic violence. It was sobering to realise that there are some 2 million Australians impacted by Domestic Violence!

We also learnt about the costs associated with refurbishing these phones and we were happy to contribute towards these costs. Our donation of $2000 was from our "Rattling the Cans" fund – money raised through recycling plastic bottles and cans which we use to support those in need in our local community!

We had dinner together and continued to share about this very worthwhile endeavour. If you have a spare mobile phone, please go to DV Safe Phone - Donate Phones, Donate Funds to find out where you can take them... your old phone could quite literally save a life!
