

Graham's Reflection

Greetings Presbytery,

Wow, it's February already and congregations across the Presbytery are quickly gearing up for the year ahead. Our Presbytery leadership met for our annual strategic planning days on the 28th and 29th of January, and 2025 looks to be an exciting but busy 12 months. As we recommence our various ministries and mission following the Christmas/New Year break and look at new opportunities and possibilities, I'd encourage us all to stop for a moment first and reflect on our motivations.

Epiphany is a time in the church year when many of our Lectionary readings lead us to consider our motivations by examining the call placed upon people like John the Baptist, the disciples, and of course most importantly, Jesus as they each start out in roles that will ultimately fulfill purposes ordained by God. For the disciples, many of them lowly fishermen, God's purposes were very different to their own sense of purpose.

I find myself challenged by this at the start of each year and turn regularly to the words of Paul to the church at Corinth.

"Consider your own call, brothers and sisters: not many of you were wise by human standards, not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth." (1 Corinthians 1:26)

Why do we do the things we do? Why do we take on Christian ministry in one of its many forms – lay or ordained? Why do we join councils of the church? Why do we run missional projects such as Op Shops or Breakfast Ministries?

Why do we put so much time, effort and money into buildings and structures? Why do we feel led to run a playgroup? What is our purpose in planning a children's ministry or get involved in Aged Care visitation? Why, why, why?

If it is for personal or self-centred reasons, it is not a calling because the motivation is achieving personal (or corporate) goals, not the vision and purpose of God. And perhaps that is why some things just don't seem to make a difference, regardless of the effort we put in.

God does not want us to act out of obligation, habit, ritual, selfishness or self-importance – our actions should be a heart-felt response to God's love for us. In other words, our actions or works should be external evidence of what is happening internally in our relationship with God. This is perhaps the key to understanding whether something we feel led to perform is a 'calling'. We need to recognise why we take on the task.

As an exercise to help us to 'consider our call' here is a quick test. Consider a task you are doing, either personally or as a church, congregation or committee. Then reflect on these comments:

If you are doing it only because no one else will, it's a job. If you're doing it to serve the Lord, it's a calling.

If you're doing it just well enough to get by, it's a job. If you're doing it to the best of your ability, it's a calling.

If you'll do it only so long as it doesn't interfere with other activities, it's a job. If you're committed to staying with it even when it means letting go of other things, it's a calling.

If you quit because no one praised you or thanked you, it was a job. If you stay with it even though no one seems to notice, it's a calling.

It's hard to get excited about a job. It's almost impossible not to get excited about a calling.

If your concern is success, it's a job. If your concern is faithfulness, it's a calling.

People may say "well done" when you do your job. The Lord will say "well done" when you fulfil your calling.

An average church is filled with people doing jobs. A great church is filled with people who answer God's call by doing what is right, loving mercy, and walking humbly with their God (Micah 6:6-8).

How did you go? What is motivating you in your church life this year?

Timothy tells us, "He has saved us and called us to a holy life—not because of anything we have done but because of his own purpose and grace. This grace was given us in Christ Jesus before the beginning of time. (2 Timothy 1:9)

Our true calling is not found in seeking a purpose, but living a life that is Holy in response to God's mercy, purpose and grace.

God Bless, Pastor Graham Huth

Prayer

O God,
I find myself at the beginning of another day.
I do not know what it will bring.
Please help me to be ready for whatever it may be.

If I am to stand up, help me to stand bravely.
If I am to sit still, help me to sit quietly.
If I am to lie low, help me to do it patiently.
If I am to do nothing, let me do it gallantly.

I pray just for today, for these twenty-four hours, for the ability to cooperate with others according to the way Jesus taught us to live.

"Your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven."
May these words that he taught us become more than words.

Please free my thinking and feelings and the thinking and feelings of others, from all forms of self-will, self-centeredness, dishonesty, and deception.

Along with my brothers and sisters,
I need this freedom to make my choices today according to your desires.
Send your Spirit to inspire me in time of doubt and indecision so that, together, we can walk along your path. Amen.

The Church is Not Dead Yet!

So often we hear the lament “we used to have kids in worship, but they have all gone now”. When you ask the question why have they gone, the answer is usually something like they moved away or they just grew up.

This was most definitely the feeling of Noosa Coastal Uniting Church, and they wanted to do something about it.

Carols at Christmas time follow a very predictable formula where it’s aimed at adults with a few minutes set aside for the kids, but Noosa Coastal UC tried something different this year with great success.

They decided to flip the formula and run a Carols event aimed at children and thus was born “CAROLS FOR KIDS”.

With craft activities, an animal farm and a worship service hosted by Albert and his sidekick, Rev Neil Storey (he’s the one in the red jacket), the worship centre was rocking! Could this possibly work?

As you can see the worship centre was almost bursting at the seams with nearly 50, that’s right 50 children in the worship centre, with Albert noticing a few adults as well.

Even more exciting was some of the families who had come to the worship centre for the first time ever, were asking about Messy Church which Noosa Coastal will start in February.

Rev Neil Storey
Noosa Coastal UC

Heartfelt community connection.

The Christmas season is often a time of giving and gratitude, and it's truly inspiring to see how communities come together to support those in need. This year, the generous people and clients of Barefoot Pilates Hervey Bay QLD made a significant impact by reaching out to help a family in need.

It all began when Barefoot Pilates expressed a desire to create a Christmas hamper for a family facing difficult times. They reached out to Hervey Bay Uniting Church, wanting to gather gifts and essentials for each family member. With the help of UnitingCare, family in need with two adults and six children were identified to benefit from this act of kindness.

On December 12th, representatives from the Uniting Church and UnitingCare met at the Barefoot Pilates studio to collect the hamper. The collection was more than just a simple gift—it was a grand gesture filled with love and thoughtfulness, including age-appropriate gifts, Christmas fare, and essential pantry goods for the entire family.

This initiative exemplifies the power of connection and community spirit. It's wonderful to see people come together, united by a common goal of helping others. A special thank you goes out to Mindy of Barefoot Pilates and her clients for their overwhelming generosity and compassion.

This story serves as a reminder that even small acts of kindness can make a significant difference in the lives of others, especially during the festive season. Let's continue to spread love and support in our communities and inspire others to do the same.

Who should go?

- Church Councilors
- Worship leaders/preacher
- Those on the worship roster—pianist, singers, bible readers, prayers etc.
- Lay preachers in training
- Anyone else who is interested

Why all these people, you might ask?

Church councilors are responsible for what goes on in the church, including worship therefore they need to have a reasonable grounding in the theology and structure of worship - the why and how of worship. This also goes for all those involved in preaching, leading and other worship practices. I will be speaking to everyone involved. In order to be involved in the worship of the church it is helpful for everyone to be on the same page.

The Act2 work of the Assembly is taking concrete steps forward.

We're establishing two new national Commissions in 2025. You can now express interest in being a member, or offer feedback on the task we're giving them.

Your invitation to contribute to our theological culture and common life and wealth

The Assembly has an exciting opportunity for you to play a critical role in co-creating the future of the United Church as we establish two new national Commissions in 2025.

Following the decisions of the 17th Assembly in July relating to the Act2 Project, the Assembly has moved from a time of reflecting on our life and imagining our future into a specific set of concrete steps. Two whole-of-Church Commissions are being created:

The Commission For Theology, Formation And Leadership.

The Commission For Governance, Resourcing And Administration.

There are two ways to engage with this exciting work right now:

- Express Interest in being a member of one of the Commissions.
- Give feedback on the draft Terms of Reference for the two Commissions.

The final deadline for both responses is 1 March 2025.

A PLACE OF TRANSFORMATION

Living on an acre of land in the Sunshine Coast Hinterland we love sharing our quiet hideaway with others.

There is plenty of space to sit quietly and contemplate, or walk the local streets and renew both body and mind.

Since settling here scores of people have come, experienced our hospitality and left renewed and ready to live out their life in Christ.
